

InsideOut

SPECIAL FEATURE
Home Offices

Issue 116 September 15 - October 14 2013 Dh15

www.insideoutmagazine.ae

World Vision

Beach homes in Rio and Miami with standout style

Baroque & Roll

Hot pink and gold are rockin' this season

Work + Play

Functional home offices with fashionable looks you'll love

Two sides of the same island: Minimalism versus opulence on the Palm

Calling Collectors

Ladró has been inviting artists from around the world to create characters for its The Guest collection of porcelain figures. Contributors include Jennie Hayon, Tim Biskup and Gary Baseman. All pieces are handcrafted in Valencia.

The Guest porcelain figures, Ladró, from Dh2,805

A perfect fit

Jean-Marc Gady's latest pieces, which use a combination of wood including rosewood, pear wood, walnut ebony and makassar, are some of the most beautifully crafted that we have seen all year. This Hawaiian longboard-inspired bench is a real standout.

Jean-Marc Gady and Cristian Legaspe for Fort-Royal. The collection is available to order, visit www.jeanmarcgady.com and www.fort-royal.com

Let them eat cake!

You don't need an occasion to catch up with friends over tea and a delightful array of sweet treats. So perhaps it's time to throw an afternoon tea party. Harvest Home stocks beautiful cake stands made from 1930s bone china tea sets and plates cleverly stacked together. Serve with scones and cream, cupcakes and laughter.

Vintage cake stands, Harvest Home, Dh300

POP HISTORY

Vintage photography mixes playfully with pop art on these cushions depicting scenes from Iraqi markets. The Iraqi coffee man is our favourite, but the pomegranate stall and yogurt sellers are great too!

Cushions, We are at Ode Ross, Dh390 each